I am interested in the CRFA certification examination and need a review course. I understand the CRFA exam is not a test over specific material but an exam that measures my competence in various areas of knowledge. In order to serve my clients in a more professional manner, I am interested in reviewing the Professional Retirement Manual offered by The Retirement Academy, a division of the Society of Certified Retirement Financial Advisors. When I am comfortable with the review and ready to take the CRFA exam, I will submit an application. The application is available at www.crfa.us website or by calling 405-376-9976.

Please send the Professional Retirement Manual in e-book format, attachments, updates to the material and study/review questions over the material. The Retirement Academy is offering teleconference classes on an as-needed basis for each purchaser of the manual.
